It captures not only the tremendous range of ideas, but also the spirit of the exchanges that propelled these ideas.

BRIEF THERAPY ANNUAL

Edited by William J. Matthews, Ph.D. and John H. Edgette, Psy.D.

Current Thinking and Research in Brief Therapy: Solutions, Strategies, Narratives, Volume 1 1997 * Cloth: 0 87630 819 1 * 304 pp * $60.95

Designed to provide access to the contemporary dialogue in brief therapy, this title will give continuing voice to the legacy of Milton H. Erickson and to the theoretical work being done in the field. The format of Current Thinking and Research in Brief Therapy allows for debate and discussion, and topics are certain to prove among the most compelling in the field today. Contents of this volume include empirically based research in ethics and hypnosis: unorthodox or innovative therapies and the legal standards of care, the state of the altered state debate, hypnosis in the treatment of AIDS, teaching asthmatic children to help themselves with relaxation/mental imagery, eye movement desensitization and reprocessing and much more.

Current Thinking and Research in Brief Therapy: Solutions, Strategies, Narratives, Volume 2 1998 * Cloth: 0 87630 867 1 * 343 pp * $85.95

In Current Thinking and Research in Brief Therapy, Volume 2, the latest publication of the Milton H. Erickson Foundation, the series editors have brought together an impressive group of contributors to discuss the latest trends in brief therapy. You will find a thoughtful piece on the issue of client-therapy intimacy, a humorous yet sensitive article on sexual concerns in couples and a powerful story on the use of hypnosis with a dying adolescent. In addition to the emotional side of psychotherapy, the authors include the scientific aspects of psychotherapy. Altogether this volume offers the reader the best in innovative treatment techniques.

Current Thinking and Research in Brief Therapy: Solutions, Strategies, Narratives, Volume 3 1998 * Cloth: 0 87630 993 7 * 347 pp * $75.95

Created as an important vehicle for the legacy of Milton H. Erickson and the theoretical work based on his ideas, Current Thinking and Research in Brief Therapy, now in its third volume, reaffirms its purpose to explore the future of Erickson-inspired therapy. The contents of this volume cover compelling topics across the field of brief therapy. Reality therapy, multicultural issues in microcounseling, weight problems and solutions, treatment of obsessive-compulsive disorder, hypnosis with children, and the postmodernism of brief therapy are just some of the subjects these writers offer for debate and discussion. Both alone or within the context of the series, this volume is a valuable addition to the research and theory of brief therapy.

ERICKSONIAN MONOGRAPH SERIES

This widely hailed series is sponsored by the Milton H. Erickson Foundation as part of its expanding educational forum for mental health professionals. The Ericksonian Monographs publish original work—theory, clinical techniques, case material and research—on the cutting edge of Ericksonian thought and practice.

Number 1: Elements and Dimensions of an Ericksonian Approach, Edited by Stephen R. Lankton

1985 * Cloth: 0 87630 411 0 * $48.95

This title makes available a richly stimulating collection of papers on both clinical and theoretical themes, including previously unpublished work by Erickson.

Number 4: Medical, Therapy Comparisons, and Research, Edited by Stephen R. Lankton & Jeffrey K. Zeig

1988 * Cloth: 0 87630 510 9 $44.95

This volume presents a richly stimulating collection of articles which deal with three extremely important areas of development in Ericksonian work: research, integration within the practice of other therapies and medical applications.

Number 6: Extrapolation: Demonstrations of Ericksonian Therapy, Edited by Stephen R. Lankton & Jeffrey K. Zeig

1989 * Cloth: 0 87630 567 2 * $49.95

For this volume six invited faculty of the tenth anniversary conference were solicited to select their favorite videotaped demonstration and comment upon it. For added perspective, the faculty members were also asked to comment on another faculty member's demonstration. The chapters in this volume represent the complete and unabridged transcriptions for those demonstrations and the 12 commentaries.

Number 7: The Issue of Broader Implications of Ericksonian Therapy, Edited by Stephen R. Lankton

1990 * Cloth: 0 87630 582 6 * $45.95

This volume is thought provoking and provides practical ideas for a wide readership. We hope that the conversations begun here will continue to spur debate, dialogue, research and developments in clinical practice.

Number 8: Views on Ericksonian Brief Therapy, Process and Action, Edited by Stephen R. Lankton, Stephen G. Gilligan & Jeffrey K. Zeig

1991 * Cloth: 0 87630 646 6 * $47.95

This is a collection of brief therapy ideas, interventions and cases from a panorama of internationally known authors. These papers bring multinational perspectives to readers with the hope that an evolution and integration of ideas can be furthered by the seeds planted in the 4th International Congress on Ericksonian Approaches to Hypnosis and Psychotherapy.

Number 10: Difficult Contexts for Therapy, Edited by Stephen R. Lankton, MSW & Jeffrey K. Zeig, PhD

1995 * Cloth: 0 87630 749 7 * $47.95

These collected papers pertain to difficult therapeutic contexts, some or which are examined as theoretical problems and others as they pertain to practice and research. They cover working with cancer pain, school avoidance, school classrooms, extramural assignments, HMOs, head injury recovery and other difficult contexts. These are excellent papers that advance the seminal contributions of Milton Erickson, and they are sure to provide valuable insights for researchers, clinicians and theorists.
